There is less sickness in this section just now than we have ever known before at this season of the year.

We are requested to state that Centerville Democratic Club will meet next Saturday, 28th inst., at 4 o'clock p. m.

Very few watermelons have been offered for sale in this city this season. The wet weather has made the crop late.

Remember that decaying fruit is deadly, especially to children. Get it fresh and wholesome, ripe, or reject it altogether.

Messrs. Girard, Stevenson and Gray in twenty-five days threshed 8,560 bushels of grain. That looks like the small grain in the section they worked in was not by any means a failure.

There will be a basket picnic at Clinchess Mill, in Martin township, next Saturday. Several speeches are expected to be delivered by various candidates. The public generally are invited to attend.

The truly virtuous do not easily credit evil that is told them of their neighbors; for if others may do amiss, then may these also speak amiss; man is frail and prone to evil, and therefore may soon fall in words.

The young ladies of the "Willing Workers" Society will have ice cream and other refreshments for sale this (Thursday) afternoon at 6 o'clock in the store room formerly occupied by Mr. J. A. Daniels, in the Masonic building.

It is said a few dry, soft bricks placed in a barrel or bin of wheat will absorb all the moisture there is in it, if it is the least damp. As nearly all the wheat in this section was in the field during the late rains, the experiment is well worth trying.

Edgar, a little son of Mr. G. W. Farmer, of York township, fell from a tree, while gathering fruit last Thursday and fractured his skull in two or three places. As last accounts the little fellow was doing as well as could be expected, but it is feared that his injuries will prove fatal.

We are requested to announce that the celebration of "Children's Day" at Trinity Church has been postponed one month. This change was found necessary on account of Sandy Springs Church having an appointment for a similar occasion on the same day that Trinity had in view.

Mr. S. N. Carpenter, editor of the Elberton (Ga.) New South, called on us last Thursday. Mr. Carpenter is a native of Anderson County, and at one time was an employee in the INTELLIGENCER office. It has been nine years since he visited Anderson. We regret that we did not see more of him during his stay in our midst.

We hope that those who read the following will profit by it: Recently a man was out hunting, and to get shelter from an approaching storm he crept into a hollow log. After the storm abated he attempted to crawl out, but found that the log had swelled so that it was impossible to make his exit. He endeavored to compress himself as much as possible, but without success. He thought of all the mean things he had ever done, until finally his mind reverted to the fact that instead of subsisting and paying for his County paper, he was in the habit of borrowing what he slipped out of the log without any trouble.

We would call attention to the advertisement of Mr. B. Frank Mauldin, Agent of the Equitable Life Insurance Company. We had a call last week from Mr. A. Well, of Wilmington, N. C., the General Selling Agent of the Atlantic Coast Line. This line has recently opened a new route from Columbia to Charleston, which is thoroughly equipped both as to road and rolling stock. It makes faster time and is provided with more comfortable cars than any other line to the city by the sea. This line makes close connection with the up and down trains on the Columbia and Greenville Railroad, and we advise our friends going up or down to try this line and see for themselves its advantages. The schedule of the new line will appear next week.

All Sunday Schools and the public generally are invited to attend with plenty to eat and some to spare the candidates.

On Wednesday afternoon of last week a serious accident occurred in Brushy Creek township, this County, between a young white man named M. J. Davis and a negro named named Austin. The negro was a tenant on Mr. Davis' plantation, and on the day named they became engaged in a quarrel about the manner of cultivating a portion of the crop. The negro finally attacked Mr. Davis, who picked up a hoe and struck him on the head, inflicting a fatal wound. The negro survived until last Tuesday, when death relieved him of his sufferings. Mr. Davis has surrendered to the Sheriff, and will immediately appear before the nearest Circuit Judge under a writ of habeas corpus.

The meetings are still progressing in the Presbyterian Church, services being held three times a day—morning, afternoon and night. Considerable interest is being manifested, the Church being crowded to its utmost seating capacity at every service. The sermons of the Rev. Mr. Burkhead are very interesting, as well as eloquent and logical. It is evident that the good results of the meeting will not be confined to the Presbyterian Church alone, but will be felt in the other Churches of the city, as the members of all denominations are deeply interested. On Wednesday morning fifteen persons appeared before the Session of the Presbyterian Church and expressed a desire to become members. The meetings are likely to continue throughout the week.

Mr. John R. Moore, eldest son of Mr. Will Moore of Garvin township, died on Wednesday afternoon of last week after an illness of about six hours. He arose apparently in his usual health that morning and, after eating a hearty breakfast, went to plowing in the field. About 9 or 10 o'clock his horse was noticed dragging the plow around and eating grass. This attracted attention, and as Mr. Moore did not resume his work, some one went to see what was the matter, and found him lying under the shade of a tree near by speechless. He was carried to the house and a physician summoned to administer to him, but it was too late, for he was beyond the reach of human aid. His disease was pronounced inflammation of the brain and stomach. Mr. Moore was about twenty-five years old, and was highly esteemed and respected by all who knew him. His remains were interred at Six-and-Twenty Church on the day following his death.

Mr. D. Burford, a former resident of this County, but now residing on Broad River, in Elbert County, Ga., has sent us a lot of Indian relics and bones, which were unearthed by the recent heavy freshets on that river. The water on this stream this Summer was higher than it was ever known before, and for miles on both sides the dirt for several feet deep was washed away, leaving an Indian burying ground exposed to view. No one in that section knew anything about the graves being there, for the land has been in cultivation for years. It is supposed the Indians used it as a burying ground years before that country was populated by white people, and that the valley has actually filled up, which so completely covered every trace of the graves that the plows, in cultivating the soil, did not unearth any of the bones. Mr. Burford says, from the appearance of the many bones scattered over the ground, there must have been several hundred Indians buried there. Some of the bones unearthed are very large, and look as if they belonged to giants. Tomahawks, arrowheads, axes, pieces of pot ware trinkets, &c., innumerable, are found there. We have several specimens on exhibition at this office. Some of the enterprising Georgia papers should send a representative there and write up a description of the place. Curiosity hunters could also find something there that would prove interesting.

A prominent business firm in one of our leading cities, who has grown rich by liberally patronizing the printer, gives to their fellow-merchants the following concerning advertising: "We have for many years studied the art of advertising, and still it remains a marvel to us that there is not a hundred times more of it. We never knew a man to advertise his wares liberally and steadily that it did not pay. Yet there are thousands of manufacturers and tens of thousands of men, having from a visit to relatives and friends in articles which they declare ought to be in every household in the country, who advertise as gingerly and closely as though they had at heart to get their goods anywhere unless some knowledge of the article gets into the family newspaper? If we waited till people learn from their neighbors, we might wait for years before the most wonderful and useful invention became known."

Mr. J. C. Keys is one of our model farmers whose methods our planters would do well to study and adopt. He is a thorough believer in small grain, and practices with marked success what he believes. In thirty-three acres he made this year 1,022 bushels of barley, and on all the land sown in barley he has either clover or cotton planted. He has already made one heavy cutting of clover, and the cotton is more than an average of the cotton crops of the County, although the season has been most unfavorable to it. Mr. Keys is a believer in saving what he makes, and therefore he has spacious barns in which all of his clover and straw has been carefully housed. He now has enough roughness stored away to last his cattle and stock for over four years, and will get at least one more good cutting of clover, which will greatly augment his store. In addition to this he made 220 bushels of wheat on twenty-eight acres, and over seven hundred bushels of oats on sixty acres. He also plants corn and cotton in small quantities, and makes large crops. His wheat and oats this year were badly frozen out, but the yield was still a profitable one. If our people would imitate Mr. Keys, this would be the most prosperous country in the world.

Resolutions Adopted by the Rock Mills Democratic Club.

At a meeting of Rock Mills Democratic Club, held on Saturday, July 19th, the following resolutions were adopted unanimously and requested to be published: WHEREAS, the County Democracy think it to be the duty of the County officers of County Auditor and Treasurer, which this Club approved; and whereas, the office of Master has been created by the Legislature in the last few years, Therefore,

Resolved, That in the opinion of this Club the office of Master should be named at Primary Election. Resolved, further, That we ask expression from the various Clubs in this County on this subject. Resolved, That the taxes we now pay are gross, and we expect, and especially in our platform we advised retrenchment and economy; and our candidates for Legislative honors have promised to reduce the taxes, and we ask our taxes are little reduced, if any. Something must be wrong. Therefore, will the candidates for Legislative honors answer the following questions for the benefit of this Club: 1. Do you favor any appropriation whatever to the Columbia Canal? 2. Do you favor any appropriation whatever to the State University, Military Citadel or any other College in this State? Your position on the above questions are respectfully solicited.

J. T. Cook, President.

ANOTHER RESCUE FROM DEATH. In 1881 while sewing on a machine, my wife was taken with a severe pain in her side, which was soon followed by hemorrhages from her lungs, severe cough, fever, and she could neither eat or sleep, and in a few weeks she was reduced to a living skeleton. Her stomach refused to retain any food, and the physician thought one of her lungs was entirely gone. At a final consultation of two physicians her case was pronounced hopeless. I tried Brewer's Lung Restorer by advice of one of the physicians, and she began to improve after the third dose. She continued the medicine, and is now in excellent health, and is better than she has been in several years. I believe Brewer's Lung Restorer saved her life.

Best, P. HERNOLD, Yatesville, Ga.

—On July 5 Mr. Gregory, of Edgemoorfield, through mistake gave his little daughter, aged fourteen years, a dose of morphine for quinine. She died shortly afterwards from the effects. He had purchased it for quinine from a country store, and, without noticing the label on the bottle, administered it freely. The mistake was discovered when it was too late.
